

DEATH TOLL OF FRASER IN BRIDGE DISASTER

TWO SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN CAR STRIKES POLE

Miss Jean Coddington May Die; Fraser Tolmie Seriously Injured

Third Passenger Escapes Serious Harm by Presence of Mind

Fraser Tolmie, of Cedar Hill Road, and Miss Jean Coddington, of 814 Metcalfe Street, were seriously injured, and Archibald Lang considerably shaken, when the automobile which the former was driving smashed into a telephone pole on Rockland Avenue at 1.50 o'clock this morning. There is little hope for the recovery of Miss Coddington, according to Dr. J. H. Moore, who is attending her. Mr. Tolmie, while seriously hurt, will probably be out of hospital in a few days. Mr. Lang escaped serious injury.

Interviewed this morning, Chief of Police John Fry stated that officers were investigating the wreck. Lang was questioned by police regarding the accident. At the time of the mishap, according to Chief Fry, Lang saw what was impending when they were driving towards the telephone pole and, thrusting his feet up to the back of the front seat, he saved himself from being thrown forward. His presence of mind probably saved him from injury.

Sitting beside Tolmie, who was driving, Miss Coddington was badly injured by the impact of machine with the pole. She was unconscious when taken to hospital and at noon to-day was still in that condition, suffering from a fractured skull, a fractured jaw, and fractures of both legs. Besides these major injuries, she was badly cut and bruised.

REGAINS CONSCIOUSNESS
Tolmie was unconscious most of the morning. Dr. M. W. Thomas reported that his patient had regained consciousness before noon and that he was not in grave danger. Considering the nature of the accident Tolmie's injuries were remarkably slight, said Dr. Thomas.

At the scene of the wreck from daylight until the removal of the smashed machine at about noon to-day, crowds inspected it.

At the turn of the road on Rockland Avenue, skid-marks showed how the car had swerved on the corner and had side-swiped the telephone pole in its path.

TANGLE OF WRECKAGE
The machine, a powerful touring car, was twisted around the pole. One arm of the cover was on the inside of the pole, and the top itself was draped over the interior of the machine. The windshield was shattered, the engine uncovered, right fender torn clean away, right rear wheel splintered, and the whole right side crushed in.

The chassis was twisted and the steering column torn loose. The seats littered the road and the rear of the car was bulging out, utterly wrecked.

Glass from the windshield strewn the road as far as sixty feet ahead of the car.

Two weeks ago, according to residents of the neighborhood, a similar accident was narrowly avoided when an automobile majordomo the road's angle and went through a hedge, just grazing a stone pillar and tree at the corner. Where Tolmie's car was lodged was about thirty feet past the gap in the hedge where the other driver had piloted his machine.

CARS COLLIDE AND CHILDREN INJURED

Machines Badly Wrecked at Queen's Avenue-Cook St. Intersection

Two children, Arthur Marks, aged four, and Veronica Marks, aged two, were bruised and slightly cut when a car driven by their father, A. W. Marks, 2329 Garden Street, collided with a car driven by W. R. Pattison of the Central Garage, at the intersection of Queen's Avenue and Cook Street at noon to-day. The drivers of both machines, according to a report from police headquarters, escaped injury. The two children were driven to hospital, where they received treatment.

The automobile, driven by Marks, was proceeding west on Queen's Avenue at the corner Pattison's car was passing the corner northbound on Cook Street, and they collided with some force.

DOUBLE ARREST FOLLOWS BATTLE WITH BANDITS ON MOVING FREIGHT TRAIN

Following the murder of one man and the serious injury of another near North Bend on Saturday two young men, John McKenzie, seventeen, and George Burgess, eighteen, were arrested near Ruby Creek to-day, riding on an eastbound freight train. They will be brought to Vancouver where an inquest will be held on Otto Bosch, who died after he had been beaten to death. F. Reibergen, who was seriously beaten, but who is expected to live, is in Vancouver now recovering from what is alleged to have been a life-and-death fight with bandits.

News of the battle on a moving train near North Bend early Saturday morning reached the Attorney-General's Department here late this afternoon. According to official word two men attacked Bosch and Reibergen as they were riding on a train, beat Bosch over the head and tried to shove his companion off the car. The bandits escaped but quick work by the provincial police resulted in to-day's capture. No charge has been laid against McKenzie and Burgess pending an inquest in Vancouver shortly.

Rescue Efforts Made by German Crews; Houses Abandoned as Ground Sinks

London, July 25.—Desperate efforts to save five miners entombed in a collapse of the pithead at the Augusta Victoria mine at Ruhr, in the Ruhr district, were being made to-day according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cologne.

The dispatch said a rush of water to the shaft of the mine had caused the whole pithead to disappear into the crater, several hundred yards deep. The crater spread rapidly in extent and houses within a radius of a mile had to be evacuated. The collapse was preceded by a series of explosions and most of the workers escaped.

PROFESSOR AIDS FIRE INVESTIGATION

Dr. R. H. Clark and Analyst to Testify at Vancouver Inquiry

Vancouver, July 25.—Professor Robert H. Clark of the University of British Columbia and City Analyst P. C. B. Vance will confer with explosives experts to determine the cause of the fire in the Royal Alexandra Apartment House here July 8, which caused eight deaths.

Following a morning of wrangling between attorneys and explosives experts, Fire Marshal J. Thomas, presiding at the investigation into the fire, requested Professor Clark and Mr. Vance to attend a demonstration to determine the inflammability of the paint remover said to have been the cause of the fire.

Chemists of the company furnishing the paint remover used in the building, the painter and attorneys for both the building company and the owner of the building, have made conflicting reports and I want to get to the bottom of the whole affair," the fire marshal said.

Vancouver, July 25.—The investigation to determine the responsibility for the fire in the Royal Alexandra Apartment House here July 8, which caused eight deaths and resulted in injuries to eleven persons, was resumed to-day by Provincial Fire Marshal J. Thomas at the courthouse.

City Analyst Vance refused to submit a report on the inflammability of the paints used by workers in the building at the time of the blaze. He reported to Fire Marshal Thomas that it would be impossible for him to work on the case at the present time, the best possible report he could submit would be next week.

Attorneys for the Hunter-Henderson Paint Company, which supplied the paint remover to the O. S. Eldridge Company, and attorneys for the owner of the apartment building attempted to show the materials used in cleaning and painting in the building were not inflammable except when brought into contact with flames.

DELAYS NOT WANTED
Fire Marshal Thomas became impatient with the delay in the proceedings and declared that he desired the only point I want cleared up is whether or not the building was inflammable.

ROYAL FUNERAL IN ROUMANIA WAS SEEN BY MANY THOUSANDS

Courtesa de Arges, Rumania, July 25.—The body of King Ferdinand, founder of New Rumania, was laid at rest yesterday alongside the tomb of his great uncle, King Carol, the first ruler of old Rumania, while the nation poured out its sorrow, love and devotion. After an impressive solemn and moving Orthodox Church service over the body in the royal chapel adjoining Cojocari Palace, on the outskirts of Bucharest, the body was borne by a special train over the 150-mile route to this little mediaeval town, where are the tombs of Rumania's ancient sovereigns.

The decision of the Government to hold the funeral on Sunday "enabled hundreds of thousands of peasants and toilers to follow their loved ones and witness it."

PEOPLE MOURNED
As the cortège passed through the picturesque countryside, peasants dressed in pure white pajama-like garments and in their bare feet, prostrated themselves on the ground, wept and made the sign of the cross, while others emptied flasks of holy water on the funeral train. Everywhere there were emblems of mourning. Only once before had Rumania been so united.

The late engineer, added Mr. Preston, besides doing considerable bridge work for the two transcontinental railroads, had been associated in the erection of the Quebec bridge, one of the engineering wonders of the world.

"The Royal York"—Empire's Largest Hotel

Architect's drawing of the New Hotel

The first architect's drawings released by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in connection with the construction of their proposed new hotel at Toronto, reveal a structure which through a series of varying roof levels, will rise to a height of 28 stories above the street level. Containing over 1000 rooms it will be the largest and finest hotel building in the British Empire, taking its place in the front rank with the world's best.

"The Royal York," as the new hotel will be known, is a name chosen for it by President E. W. Beatty, believing it to be most fitting in that it associates the new structure with the history of Toronto and conforms with the dignity and importance of the building and its splendid appointments. The earliest history of Toronto is encompassed in the word "York". About the year 1791 the new province of Upper Canada was duly constituted, and its capital was started in its career as "a very English town" by that sturdy Briton, John Graves Simcoe. He bestowed upon it the name of York, establishing there as close a copy of British political institutions as he could contrive. The location of the new hotel is notable in that it is directly across from the new Toronto Union Station, one of the largest railway terminals in America, and which will be opened shortly. The building will extend 350 feet along the north side of Front Street, which is unusually wide at this point and which will result in the hotel being set off to splendid advantage. It will extend on the west to York Street and to Piper Street on the north. On the east is an open space. A wide airy and well-lit subway will extend under Front Street into the new Union Station.

"Some idea of the facilities of this new hotel can be gained by the fact that on the two floors above the lobby and first mezzanine, it will be possible to accommodate conventions of six and seven thousand people. One of these floors will be one of the most notable in America. Around a central foyer will be arranged a ballroom, convention hall and banquet room. These halls will be of unusual height and size, being overlooked by balconies opening out on another mezzanine floor.

The roof garden at the top of the tower will be far in advance of anything that has yet been attempted in Canada along that line. On three sides it will be glass covered, thus affording an uninterrupted view across the lake and the city. Here meals will be served. Above it will be another mezzanine floor containing additional facilities for serving and entertainment.

Detail plans for finishing and decoration have not yet been completed, but considerable personal attention to such is being given by Mr. Beatty and the Company's directors. The result will be a building that, besides being an ornament to the city of Toronto in every respect worthy of that city's importance and assured growth, will be the largest hotel structure in the Empire. In construction and furnishing the new hotel will, as far as possible, be all-Canadian.

women was fatally burned and her three children so seriously burned that one or more may die, were among the accidents reported in Eastern Canada over the week-end.

The triple drowning occurred in the Rideau River at Long Island, a summer resort near Ottawa, when a rowing boat capsized. Frank McGrath, thirty, Allen McGrath, twenty-seven, a brother, and Gordon C. Belot, twenty-seven, prospective brother-in-law of the two others, were the victims.

Mrs. James Walters died in an Ottawa hospital early this morning from burns caused by an exploding oil stove at her home at Fournier, Ont. Her three children, Douglas, twelve, who is not expected to live, Eileen, thirteen, and Earl, eleven, were seriously burned, while their home and a village blacksmith shop adjoining were destroyed by fire.

Dan Panceo, forty-one, was killed by a falling stone while at work on the bridge over the Rideau River near Hull, Que.

Edward W. Whittemore, sixty-nine, was killed by a heavy milk truck in Belleville, Ont.

John Pugh, forty-eight, was killed in Pembroke by an automobile.

Oscar Brown, twenty-two, was drowned in the Humber River at Toronto.

Ten-year-old Scott Kinney was instantly killed when he fell off a load of hay on his father's farm near Toronto.

BRITISH CABINET DISCUSSES CRUISERS

Bridgeman and Cecil to Return Wednesday to Conference at Geneva

London, July 25.—A special conference of members of the British Cabinet was held at No. 10 Downing Street this morning to make a final review of the progress of the Three-Power Naval Conference at Geneva.

A formal Cabinet meeting was scheduled for later in the day, while Rt. Hon. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty and chief of the British naval delegation, and Viscount Cecil, both of whom left Geneva last week to report to the home Government, planned to return to Geneva tomorrow.

HALFOUR AT WORK

The Earl of Halfour, one of the cabinet's chief advisers on the disarmament problem, celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday to-day. Despite his years, he played tennis during the week-end and to-day was spending his birthday helping to untangle the disarmament problems besides taking over the post of Secretary for Dominion Affairs and Colonial Secretary in the absence of L. C. Amery, who has just started on a tour of the Empire.

Political correspondents of the morning newspapers were virtually unanimous in the belief that the Cabinet meeting would not bring about any material changes in the British naval policy as already declared at the Geneva conference.

BRITISH EMPIRE SETS UP YPRES WAR MEMORIAL

Ypres, July 25 (Canadian Press, via Reuters).—In memory of 56,000 soldiers of the British Empire who fell in the Ypres salient during the World War and were interred in nameless graves, the dignified Menin Gate Memorial Arch was unveiled to-day by Field Marshal Lord Plumer, High Commissioner of Palestine, in the presence of King Albert of Belgium and some 40,000 relatives of the dead. Seven hundred poor mothers who lost their sons in the salient were granted a free passage to Ypres to participate in the ceremony.

MANY FLAGS IN CITY

Around the gaunt ruins of the Old Cloth Hall, a new Ypres is arising, and the resurrected city yesterday was bedecked with flags in honor of the occasion. Parents, widows and children of the dead, as well as war-time comrades, made pilgrimages from Great Britain by special trains and steamers and gathered in the vast concourse for the ceremony.

The memorial, erected by the Imperial War Graves Commission, is an arch of stately proportions, astride the Menin Road, with a lion, vigilant, facing the direction from which the German armies were flung unsuccessfully for years. An inscription that is impressive in its simplicity is at the head of the list of names engraved as an imperishable tribute.

CANADIAN NAMES THERE

The names of 7,024 members of the Canadian military forces are among the 56,000 names engraved in alphabetical order on panels inside the arch.

The memorial includes a hall of memory which is 129 feet long by sixty-six feet wide and from the centre broad staircases lead to the ramparts and open-sided galleries which run the length of the building.

EARTH SHOCKS WERE FELT IN QUEBEC

Quebec City and North Bank of St. Lawrence Eastward Shaken

Quebec, July 25.—Earth shocks which lasted several seconds were felt in Quebec and its vicinity last night. Telephone messages from St. Joseph and Cape Towns said the vibration had been felt at those places. No damage was reported.

The shocks were felt at 9 o'clock in this locality. As there is no seismograph in Quebec, exact details of the extent of the tremors are not available. The shocks were felt at Lake St. Joseph, Lake Sargent, Courville and Petite Riviere. Residents of those parishes report several distinct tremors were noted.

A physician and an ambulance made the seventy-mile trip to St. Laurent and the victim was brought to the hospital here, dying a short time after admission.

At Winnipeg Beach Robert T. McCann, sixteen, was drowned when the youth, unable to swim, waded beyond his depth.

Theo. Kettner, thirty-two, was decapitated by a train while walking along the right-of-way near St. Boniface.

THANKS TO THE PROWESS OF J.B.A.A. oarsmen the Buchanan Cup, emblematic of the championship in the senior four class of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen, will repose once more, for a year at least, in Victoria after an absence of twenty years. This cup, probably the finest of its kind in existence, was presented to the N.P.A.A.O. by the firm of John Buchanan & Sons thirty-five years ago. For a long time it was held by the J.B.A.A., whose senior four, stroked by Dan O'Sullivan, won it six years in succession. In 1907, however, it was captured by one of the other crews, and has alternated between Portland and Vancouver until Saturday, when the J.B.A.A. four, stroked by W. S. Kennedy, who has been rowing for more than twenty years, and trained by Mr. O'Sullivan, won it at Harrison Lake. With the Buchanan trophy also returned the Dewar cup for the highest number of points won by a member of the N.P.A.A.O. in the two days' racing, and six other cups. The J.B.A.A. is entitled to hearty congratulations upon its fine showing, and a special tribute is due the oarsmen themselves who so valiantly upheld the honor of their city in this historic contest.

LET US GO EAST

DO THE PEOPLE OF THE WEST KNOW as much about the people of the East and their problems as the people of the East know about us and the conditions existing in this Province? This is an important question and it is in the interest of Canadian unity to study it and understand its meaning. The immediate answer is—and it can be based for one thing on the fact that the East continually sends its people across the country to learn all about it and its peculiar difficulties and characteristics—that only a comparatively small number of British Columbians who were not born in the East know very much about the country on the other side of the Rockies.

In these circumstances the advice just given by the president of the local Canadian Club is both timely and important. In effect he puts it up to British Columbians to organize tours of Eastern Canada on lines similar to those upon which the recent visit of a party from Quebec was organized by the University of Montreal. He very properly points out that if we of this Province had more opportunities of meeting our fellow Canadians, more especially those of the Ancient Province, in their native surroundings, much of the misunderstanding and lack of sympathy that now too often exists would disappear completely. The opportunities, of course, will have to be made. Very efficiently could the Canadian Clubs of British Columbia take the lead in this matter, joining with the various service clubs and educational bodies, and make sure that from now on two or three excursions a year are undertaken.

Too much emphasis can not be laid upon this means of strengthening the bonds between the provinces, bonds which too often are not considered in their fullest sense, but merely as bonds forged by a memorable legislative enactment. That is not enough. Our people must understand one another and one another's difficulties. The newspapers of the country very naturally are doing their best in an interpretative way; but, as we have emphasized before, there is nothing like personal contact to promote understanding. And we may as well admit that the people of the East know more about us and our affairs than we know about them and theirs. This condition can best be improved by adopting the proposal which the president of the local Canadian Club has just advanced.

SUPERVISION AT THE BEACHES

WOULD IT NOT BE SOUND POLICY for the City Council to appoint one or two play superintendents or life guards for service at the many fine beaches which abound in this community? The schools are closed and these warm days very naturally are attracting hundreds of youngsters to the water's edge in order that they may defy the sun's rays in the minimum of clothing.

This community has been fairly free from beach accidents; but the youngsters are there in dozens with hammers and nails in business as amateur raft builders. It is a fine sport for them and not a few of them display remarkable skill in the construction of their craft. Very little danger attends as long as they ride the waves when the tide is coming in; when it begins to recede, however, the young navigator must beware lest he be carried out with it.

If it is not possible to organize continuous supervision during the hot days, when the beaches are an irresistible attraction for the youngsters, it might be possible for one official to make a daily round at the busiest time and sound a note of warning to the adults as well as their offspring. Even ropes might be stretched across the various small bays which are so popular in order that the danger zone may be clearly marked. In any event no amount of precaution afterwards would make up for the loss of one life.

INVADING THE FONT

THE ITALIAN CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES is about to pass a bill which will limit the liberty of parents in giving names to their children. Its sponsors declare that such a measure is necessary in order that the practice of "inflicting ridiculous or offensive names on children" shall be ended.

Why not give the seven-portfolio Prime Minister the authority to choose the baby's name? He has abolished practically every form of personal liberty. A few more decrees will make very little difference. Thinking out loud against Fascism already is a most heinous crime. Permission for the Italian citizen to breathe pretty well as he likes has not yet been interfered with; but goodness knows what will come next.

We agree with The Chicago Daily News when it suggests: "When in Rome, do as Mussolini says." It is not advisable to do otherwise unless you are looking for trouble.

WILLIAM EDWARD McTAGGERT

NEWSPAPER MEN THROUGHOUT British Columbia will mourn the passing of William Edward McTaggart, several years ago a popular member of the staff of The Vancouver Daily Province, and latterly known as "Jim Bedford"—the man who wrote cheerful articles about tuberculosis and its treatment, knowing all the time that, sooner or later, his end would be another of its victims.

The death of Mr. McTaggart, a young man of thirty-four, a husband and father, is another reminder of the relentless course which the "great white plague" follows. It reminds us also that medical science, if not floundering in its efforts either to discover a means of prevention or a cure, seems hopelessly at sea about a disease which still claims thousands of victims every year.

From time to time we hear of a cure for tuberculosis. Sir Robert Philip, honorary physician to King George, has just prophesied the disappearance of the malady from Great Britain in thirty years. It is to be hoped he is right. Meanwhile something like four hundred die of it in British Columbia annually.

A PLEASANT PROSPECT

HON. W. D. EULER, MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE, expects an increase in the Dominion's revenue during the present fiscal year of something between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The sum indicated may not strike many people as large in itself; but other important considerations have to be borne in mind when making comparisons. Several factors would almost suggest that revenue for this fiscal year might be less than the previous one. Three months of it will be influenced by the return to penny postage; then it must be remembered that both sales taxes and income taxes also have been further reduced, while from this month on the stamp duty on cheques will yield considerably less income to the national exchequer.

If Mr. Euler's hopes are realized, therefore, it will be something of a triumph—and no doubt Mr. Robb will feel inclined to give the taxpayer the benefit when he brings in his 1928 budget.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

UNTIL THEY MAKE GOOD
From The Kingston Whig-Standard

From Christopher Columbus to Chas. Lindbergh, the world's great adventures have been stigmatized as fools until they "brought home the bacon."

LORDS REFORM FIGHT
From The Montreal Gazette

It now seems that the so-called die-hards of the British Conservative party have got themselves into serious trouble. The proposal to reform the House of Lords came somewhat suddenly before the public, and for a time its possibilities as a source of mischief were but dimly appreciated. The Lords themselves were willing to pass a measure. It is now alleged that this readiness to accept reform was due to the fact that the interests and privileges of the hereditary aristocracy were protected in the principle of the bill the government were prepared to submit and a very fierce discussion resulted, not between the government party and the opposition groups, but between two wings of the Conservative party itself. The die-hard Conservatives were accused of reaction in the name of reform, of attempting to strengthen the House of Lords against the House of Commons, and of planning for the preservation of a permanent Conservative majority in the Upper House. It was charged, also, that the government had no mandate for the enactment of legislation of this character.

COMMUNIZING CHINA
From The New York World

A brain-storm of unusual severity seems to have hit the Comintern in Moscow. Some strange manifestations have come from this high command of the Communist Party, but none more remarkable than its present complaint addressed to China and rebuking that nation for failing to develop "an agrarian and proletarian revolution."

One wonders whether the Comintern is aware of the fact that an agrarian revolution in China would be hard put to find something to revolt against. Land in China is not held in large estates by a landed aristocracy, as was the case in Russia before 1917. Land in China is already split up among millions of small landholders who own their farms and whose families have owned these same farms for generations. The large landowner is practically non-existent. In these circumstances what do the theorists in Moscow expect the Chinese to do? Are they to unite to seize the property which they already hold? Or are they to unite to take away from themselves land which they own, for the purpose of conferring its title on the state? One would think that the Communist leaders in Moscow had sufficient proof of the impracticability of separating farmers from their farms, once they own them, in its highly unsuccessful experiments at home.

The whole drift in China is away from Communism. But, true to principle, the paper agitators in Moscow keep plugging away with the same old slogans, whether or not they fit and however badly they have worked in Russia.

Do You Mean What You Say?

COOLIE

"COOLIE"

The coolies are unskilled laborers from the Orient, especially China and India. They were first imported into North America under contract according to which they agreed to a certain term of service. The term "coolie" or "cool" is from Hindi "kull" or "kull" which means "laborer." In many sections Chinese immigrants of all classes are referred to as coolies.

THE STORY OF THE MOUNTED

No phase of Canadian governmental activities ever captured and held the public imagination like the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The record of this famous body is renowned throughout the world, and wherever constabulary are established they are modeled largely on the example of the Canadian force.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, formerly the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, is the organization upon which the Dominion Government relies for the execution of Federal legislation. It is also available for assistance.

NOTES FROM GEOGRAPHY

SAULT STE. MARIE CANAL, or "Soo" canal, as it is known, where freight and passenger boats are raised and lowered between the levels of Lake Superior and Lake Huron, has the heaviest freight traffic of any artificial waterway in the world. The present canal was opened in 1897, providing a link in the waterway from the head of the Great Lakes to the St. Lawrence River. The largest Canadian lock in St. Mary's River is 900 feet long and largest on the American side is 1,100 feet long. The American lock is the largest in the world.

ance to the provinces in the preservation of law and order. When the prairies became part of the Dominion the force was established (1873) to maintain British law in the new area, and under the first commissioner, Colonel (afterwards Major-General Sir George) French, the force three hundred strong marched, in 1874, from the Red River to the Rocky Mountains. The march has become famous in military history for its 2,000 mile push through unknown territory and among hostile tribes of Indians. From 1795 to 1881 brilliant service was rendered by the police in controlling the Sioux Indians, who entered the Northwest Territories after the defeat of General Custer in the United States.

As the buffalo diminished on the prairies the Indian problem increased. The Canadian Pacific Railway was thrust across the plains in the 80's, and the construction brought armies of foreign laborers into the western country. Immigration followed. All the elements of lawlessness and frontier unrest were present. But the police, too, were there, and by strength and efficiency and incorruptible administration order was preserved. It was during these days the men in scarlet really won their spurs.

In the South African war troops from the force served with the Canadian contingents, and in the Great War two squadrons were raised for overseas service, one in France and one in Siberia. But the military aspect of the Mounted Police work has largely passed, and to-day there is a great variety to its duties, such as guard duty against prairie fires and visiting lonely settlers during the winter. Arctic patrols, prevention of sale and smuggling of narcotics, the administration of the Naturalization Act, the Canada Temperance Act, the Quarantine Act, and all the diverse Federal laws which require police aid. In 1903 the prefix "Royal" was given to the Force after conspicuous work in the Yukon Territory during the gold-rush days.

In 1920 the Police lost its strictly Western character and became a Dominion-wide body. The headquarters, which for many years had been at Regina, Saskatchewan, moved to Ottawa. For nearly forty years the Mounted Police had been prominent in the rapid development of the prairie city of Regina, but to-day with headquarters in the capital its constables travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the international boundary to Ellesmere Island in the Arctic.

From the original force of 300 men the Mounted Police has grown to a strength of over 1,000. When it was formed the training was that of a British cavalry regiment, while to-day it varies from horsemanship to criminal detection and the study of the law.

INCREASE CITY WATER PRESSURE

Waterworks Crews Work Day and Night to Complete New Installation

Novel Form of Concrete Bridge Executed For Goldstream Main Line

Working day and night from 8 a.m. Saturday to midnight Sunday, the city waterworks department installed a new pressure regulating valve in the city system, ensuring increased pressure throughout the city in the future.

The work, carried out under the direction of F. M. Preston, city engineer, developed into a race against time, as the mains feeding Smith's Hill had to be shut off for its completion, and the water in that reservoir is drawn to feed most supply systems of the city.

Some of the men, working in a two-foot pipe with acetylene torches, had to be supplied with compressed air to keep down the terrific heat and discomfort of the conditions under which the work had to be completed. Saturday was one of the hottest days of the year, and added to the difficulties of the task.

The installation means increased pressure in domestic supply throughout a large section of the city. The regulating valve was the first step in the work, and was satisfactorily installed in the forty-hour race against the decreasing level in the main city reservoir.

DESIGNS NOVEL BRIDGE
Work on the special bridge to carry the Goldstream main to the city across the George at Parsons Bridge will be completed in two weeks time. The city constructed a special bridge to convey the pipe across on a new alignment made necessary through the installation of a new highway bridge at the site by the Provincial Government.

A three-hinged arch in reinforced concrete was used, the forms being made in the city's workshops, and the sections towed on scows to the scene. This type of construction, which has

Langford

Langford, July 23.—The Langford ball park was well patronized on Sunday, two softball matches taking place there—one in the morning and the other in the early evening.

The Albion Brass & Iron Works team played against a mixed team composed of some of the Wilfrid Lumber Company's team and Langford Lake, the players being: E. Corbett, c.f.; B. Macormack, c.; L. Le Queune, s.s.; B. Brian, 3b.; D. Burnett, 1b.; O. Corbett, 2b.; G. Fagan, p.; O. Newham, 1b. and V. MacTavish, r.f. After a stiff fight the visitors won by one point, the final score being: Albion's team, 8; Langford team, 5. The Albion men spent the interval at Langford Lake, where bathing and boating were thoroughly enjoyed. In the evening they played Squelmit team at Langford. They were again victorious with a score of 19 points to 6. Conroy of the Albion Stone Works made two home runs in the day's play.

Miss Irene Wolfe is spending the vacation at her home in the Highland district.

Mrs. James L. Brown was hostess at the Langford Lawn Tennis Club held on Saturday afternoon. Several visitors were present and a very pleasant time spent by all. The members planned to hold a "wiener" roast on Friday evening, meeting at "Holmwood," Goldstream Road, at 8 o'clock.

IS ON ATLANTIC ON WAY HOME

After a brief visit to Great Britain with her uncle, Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, Miss Helen Mackenzie is now on her way home to resume her duties as chaperone of Government House. She and the Lieutenant-Governor are fellow-passengers of the Prince of Wales, Prince George, Premier Stanley Baldwin and Mrs. Baldwin, on the liner Empress of Australia, which will reach Quebec on Saturday next, August 30. According to arrangements made before their departure for Victoria, His Honor and Miss Mackenzie expected to spend a week in the East and a few days at Windermere on their way home, but it is probable that the pending visit of the Prince will cause them to waive their plans and return direct to this city.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER
COD LIVER OIL NEEDED WHEN THERE IS UNDER-NUTRITION

Mrs. J. M. writes: "My friend's baby is not up to par. He weighs less than he should, is pale, and the soft spot is still wide open. I want her to give him cod liver oil, but she says he doesn't need it, especially in summer. I think otherwise. Who is right? Does cod liver oil cause a rash all over a baby's body?"

ANSWER
When a baby is underweight, when he is pale and anemic and the soft spot has not begun to close up (it should be much smaller at one year)—there is need for cod liver oil no matter what season it is. Cod liver oil contains valuable vitamins and also helps the body to use the lime and phosphorus of other foods to better advantage. In addition to cod liver oil this child undoubtedly needs some alteration of his general diet. I doubt if small amounts of the oil would effect a general body rash.

Mrs. C. H. H. writes: "My baby is three months old, and there are a few things I want to know about him. Is it correct when undressing him for the night to take off his shoes?"

"When is it proper to prop up a baby in his buggy? Is three months a good age at which to begin training to the stool?"

"He weighs fifteen pounds and is happy and healthy. The formula I am using seems all right for him."

ANSWER
All a baby needs at night is a knitted band, diaper and nightgown. Some mothers have started training their babies at three months and have been successful. I think five months is early enough for this. It depends on the development of the child. Your baby is such a large weight that he is as large as a five months' old baby now.

It is unnecessary and wrong to prop a baby up and force him to sit when his back is not strong enough to support him. When a child is ready to sit up, planks won't hold him down, and then when he sits erect his back supports him, and when he is tired he flops back again. Give him an opportunity to raise himself in carriage or bed, but don't prop him up with pillows and force him to stay that way. Be sure your baby has orange juice and cod liver oil with the formula you are using.

CONVENTION NAMES TWO OUTSTANDING BUSINESS WOMEN

Judge Florence Allen and Edna B. Ruby Win Trip to Europe

Oakland, July 25—Edna Browning Ruby of Lafayette, Indiana, and Judge Florence Allen, Cleveland, Ohio, are "the two most pre-eminent business and professional women of America"—selected in nationwide contest conducted by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in convention here.

Announcement of the award which carries with it a trip to Europe was made before 8,000 delegates and guests who attended the formal banquet of the business women's ninth annual convention held in the arena of the Oakland auditorium. It culminates a year's search among 60,000 club members throughout the country for the two women who, by their courage and ability, have overcome handicaps to the extent of winning highest distinction in their particular vocation.

A committee of Federation leaders made the decision after a serious consideration of several hundred candidates chosen by the forty-eight states in the Union.

She served on the editorial staff of several of the leading newspapers and also as a teacher before becoming legal investigator of the New York state league for the Protection of Immigrants.

She was admitted to the Ohio bar in 1914, and in 1922 elected to the Supreme Court of Ohio, becoming the first woman to sit on a state supreme court of last resort.

GAINS FAME FOR ECCLESIASTICAL ART
Edna Browning Ruby is the only woman in this country who has been elected to the position of president of the ecclesiastical art, design, and stained glass society of America.

For her work Miss Ruby has been showered with honors. The gold medal and first woman membership was awarded her by the Associated Designers of London for a design of silk in 1914. She has also received awards and medals in Paris, London, Berlin, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Miss Ruby's main work, that of designing in textiles, has long been regarded as a man's work. Her success is due to originality and her ability to operate highpower machines and looms.

Capt. and Mrs. G. E. Walls will entertain at dinner this evening at their home on Dunsmuir Road, prior to the naval dance, Mrs. M. E. Wheatley, Miss Mollie Stevenson, Mr. Victor Wheatley and Mr. Vivian Bagshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. H. will entertain at a dinner party this evening at their home, "Hillhaven," prior to the dance being given by the Senior Naval Officers and ward room officers at the Royal Canadian Naval Barracks, Esquimaux.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Mosedale, Cambridge Street, accompanied by their son, Mr. Walter Mosedale, left yesterday by motor for Seattle, where they will spend a week as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keown.

Mrs. Arnold Liechti and daughter Madge left yesterday morning on the steamer Empress of Australia en route to their home in Alameda after spending a holiday with her sister, Mrs. H. M. Sallaway, 1121 Pandora Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Bell, of Craigville, Alberta, who have been spending a few days in Victoria as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Acton, Niagara Street, left on Saturday for their home in Alameda en route to their home in Alberta.

Miss Doris McKennie of Port Arthur, who has been visiting friends in Victoria for the past week, returned to Vancouver yesterday, where she will spend some time with her grandmother, Mrs. George Mitchell, and her aunt, Mrs. Stone, before going home to Port Arthur.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Sandford, 1832 Richmond Avenue, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Alice, to John Norman, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. W. Frazier, 531 Williams Street. The wedding will take place on August 12 at the Oak Bay United Church at 8 o'clock.

Mr. John R. Totten of New York, who is spending the summer at the Empress Hotel, entertained at a luncheon party at the hotel on Saturday, followed by bridge and mah jong. The guests included Lady Barnard, Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, Mrs. John Galt, Mrs. Archer Martin, Mrs. H. B. McGovern (Ottawa), Mrs. Hermon Robertson, Mrs. W. Oothout, Mrs. F. W. Hartley, Mrs. J. W. Ambury, Mrs. C. P. Hill, Mrs. A. C. Burdick, Mrs. Alexis Martin and Mrs. Wesley Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Brown, of Cloverdale Avenue, were hosts at a bridge party followed by dancing at their home on Saturday evening, given in honor of their guests, Miss E. Mitchell of Saskatoon. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. R. Pembroke, Mr. and Mrs. F. Glendenning, Mr. and Mrs. F. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. Moon, Miss Marion Moon, Miss Dorcas Davis, Miss Barrett, the Misses C. and H. Brown, and Mr. Edwards.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Fred Hurley was hostess at a delightful tea in honor of Miss Reta Kelly whose marriage takes place shortly. The tea-table, which was presided over by Mrs. J. B. Penty, was prettily decorated with vases of nasturtiums. During the afternoon Mrs. Edna Christianson presented a bride-elect with a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas, roses and lavender, accompanied with the best wishes of all present. Among the invited guests were: Mrs. G. H. Davidson (Los Angeles), Mrs. J. B. Penty, Mrs. J. H. Hurley, Mrs. W. M. Melville, Mrs. J. H. Pollard, Mrs. J. Roskamp, Mrs. J. Christie.

STILLMAN WEDDING SET FOR TUESDAY

"Bud's" Fiancee Lost Valuable Necklace While Shopping

La Tuque, Que., July 25—The final touches are being added to the arrangements for the wedding at Grande Anse on Tuesday of "Bud" Stillman, Princeton student and son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman of New York, and Miss Lena Wilson, a union that will culminate a romance that was begun when the Stillmans spent their summers at Grande Anse and Lena was an attaché of the Summer home. The ceremony will be solemnized by the Abbe Lamy, cure of Grande Anse. Miss Wilson is still at La Tuque, and reports published in New York newspapers to the effect that "Bud" had carried out a "gay Lochinvar" adventure and had "kidnapped" his fiancée on account of domestic disputes were received by the Wilsons with considerable amusement. Lena's movements have been perfectly free and Saturday night she engaged in a shopping tour at La Tuque. Incidentally she lost a valuable necklace on the street and this has not been found yet.

Eastern Star Party Much Entertained On Way to Coast

Winnipeg, July 25—After a very pleasant day at Minaki, ninety lady members of the Order of the Eastern Star, who are on an official trans-Canada trip in celebration of the jubilee of Confederation, reached Winnipeg at 7:30 yesterday morning over the Canadian National Railways.

On their trip west they have been the guests of members of their order at Ottawa and Toronto, and prominent members of the Winnipeg chapters welcomed them on their arrival here.

The party, which is under the special charge of T. E. Pringle, general agent of the Canadian National Railways, Montreal, left Winnipeg last night at 11:30. The next stop will be Watrous, Saskatchewan, which the special train will reach at 12:30 Monday. The day before serving.

Extra-Safe Summer Hygiene

When Wearing Sheer, Thin Frocks

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND Registered Nurse

FLOWERED chiffons, lovely pastel crepes, sheerest, thinnest frocks—women wear them now, under their most severe hygienic handicap, in peace-of-mind and safety.

Eight in 10 better-class women have discarded old-time "sanitary pads" for KOTEX, which has the amazing absorbency of 16 times its own weight in moisture—5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

Kotex also deodorizes. Another important factor. Discards, too, as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry;

no embarrassment of disposal. Get Kotex at any store, 12 in package. See that box you buy is marked "KOTEX"—if it isn't, it is not genuine Kotex. No laundry—discard like tissue.

OFFICIAL PARTY TO
RELIEF CONDITIONSHon. C. A. Dunning and Officials to Visit Port Nelson and Fort Churchill

Ottawa, July 25.—Next Wednesday an official party, headed by the Minister and Deputy Minister of the Department of Railways and Canals, will start a trip which will take them to Port Nelson and Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay, thus carrying out the intention of the minister, Hon. C. A. Dunning, to personally review conditions as they exist at these ports, one of which will be the terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway.

The official party will consist of eleven persons. The start will be made from Ottawa Wednesday night, the party arriving in Winnipeg Friday morning and leaving immediately for the end of the trip on the Hudson Bay Railway at Kettle Rapids.

The inspection tour will start from that point, carriages taking the party out en route to Nelson, August 1. Approximately fifty miles of the journey to Nelson will be by canoe and the remaining twenty miles by gasoline launch. An indefinite period will be spent investigating Port Nelson and the party will later leave by tug boat for Fort Churchill. Altogether the journey is expected to take four weeks.

Included in the party will be: Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals; Major Graham Bell, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals; Col. A. E. Dubeau, Chief engineer of the department; D. W. McLaughlin, department engineer; George Kidd, department engineer; R. Delia, secretary to Mr. Bell, and Larry Wilson, representing the Canadian Press.

At Winnipeg Brig-General Patterson, president of the On-to-the-Bay Association and C. S. Gossow, chief engineer of construction for the Canadian National Railways will join the party.

Washington, July 25.—Shippers in Washington and Oregon are entitled to the same rates on lumber sent to points on the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Northern Pacific Railroad in Montana, Minnesota and the Dakotas that they are giving to points in the same territory but on other railroads. It was held Saturday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

At present the rates to the Soo Line points from the west coast are 7c per 100 pounds higher than to points on other roads.

The commission ordered the Soo Line and other carriers participating in the traffic to make new rates effective October 1, equalizing the charges.

CARGOES OF OIL AND GAS ARRIVE
Three cargoes of oil and gasoline arrived here this week-end, the tankers Washtenaw and Mina Brea arriving at the Victoria Petroleum Company and Imperial Oil Company's tanks at the Douglas wharf with three tank cars for the Associated Oil Company.

The Washtenaw was here yesterday and discharged gasoline at the Victoria Petroleum Company's tanks at the Douglas wharf. She was from California.

The Mina Brea was in this morning from Los Angeles with 1,500 gallons of fuel oil for the Imperial Oil Company.

The Douglas came from Seattle and discharged her cargo at the Associated Oil Company's Ogden Point tanks.

ACHILLES TO DOCK
HERE THIS EVENING
FROM ORIENT PORTS
With twenty-eight Chinese passengers for this port and 128 bags of mail including airmail, the Blue Funnel liner Achilles, Captain A. C. Wilson, will arrive at William Head quarantine station from the Orient about 9 o'clock to-night. Rithet consolidated, local agents, have been advised. The Achilles should be up to the dock about 10.15 o'clock. After discharging here she will proceed to Vancouver.

WEE YOT, Robert G. Spalding and Argosy Are Among
Pleasure Craft Here
The fleet of pleasure yachts visiting here was considerably augmented over the week-end with three arrivals for short sojourns.

Gerald H. Bucey of Seattle, and his son, Boyd, with their eighteen-foot trunk cabin cruiser were the most interesting of the week-end arrivals. This pair of intrepid navigators with their appropriately named Wee Yot, intend to make the trip to Ketchikan, Alaska, from this port. They left their Puget Sound home last Wednesday and have called at several ports en route here. They will go to Nanaimo from this port and afterwards to the British Columbia coast to Ketchikan, terminating their holiday cruise at that point.

The Tacoma yacht Argosy, a sixty-foot vessel, accompanied by a white and a pleasure cruise in B.C. and Puget Sound waters.

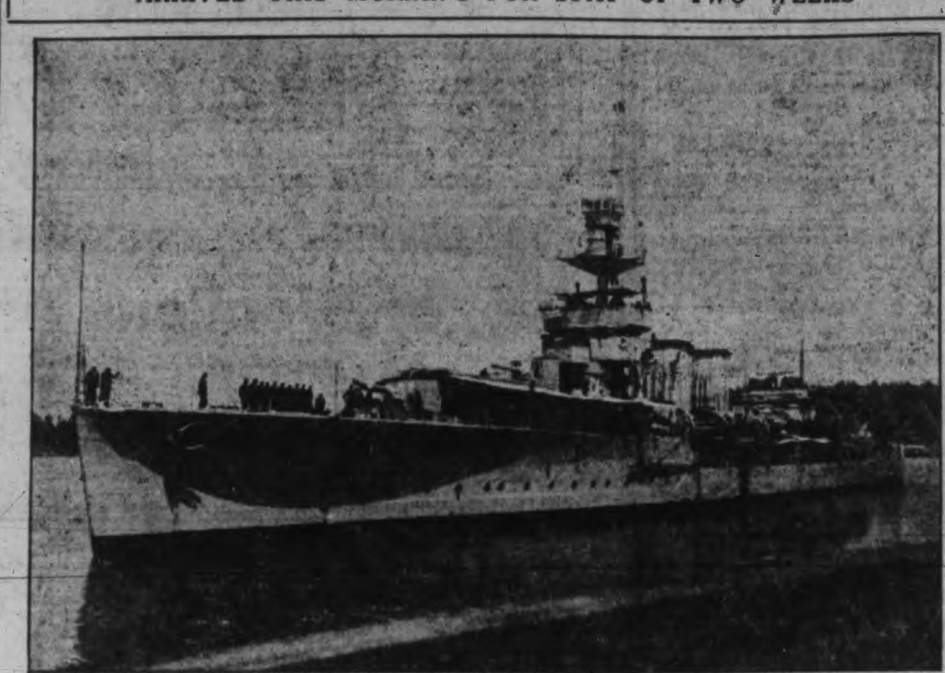

J. W. Burson of Southern California brought his fine yacht, Robert G. Spalding to anchor for a short stay prior to making a cruise to the Gulf Islands. The Robert G. Spalding is a fifty-two foot craft powered with a 125 horse power gasoline motor. Her beam is eleven feet six inches.

The vessel is luxuriously fitted to accommodate six guests and a crew of two and every comfort is provided for them on board. A Delco electric plant, steam radiators, hot and cold running water, phonograph and writing desk are among the conveniences.

Mr. Burson who is accompanied by Clarence Burson and Captain Newton Thomas, left this morning for San Juan Islands intending to watch the fish traps in operation.

Tankers, Washtenaw and Mina Brea Here; Tug Douglas Tows Tank Cars

Three cargoes of oil and gasoline arrived here this week-end, the tankers Washtenaw and Mina Brea arriving at the Victoria Petroleum Company and Imperial Oil Company's tanks at the Douglas wharf with three tank cars for the Associated Oil Company.

The Washtenaw was here yesterday and discharged gasoline at the Victoria Petroleum Company's tanks at the Douglas wharf. She was from California.

The Mina Brea was in this morning from Los Angeles with 1,500 gallons of fuel oil for the Imperial Oil Company.

The Douglas came from Seattle and discharged her cargo at the Associated Oil Company's Ogden Point tanks.

ACHILLES TO DOCK
HERE THIS EVENING
FROM ORIENT PORTS
With twenty-eight Chinese passengers for this port and 128 bags of mail including airmail, the Blue Funnel liner Achilles, Captain A. C. Wilson, will arrive at William Head quarantine station from the Orient about 9 o'clock to-night. Rithet consolidated, local agents, have been advised. The Achilles should be up to the dock about 10.15 o'clock. After discharging here she will proceed to Vancouver.

WEE YOT, Robert G. Spalding and Argosy Are Among
Pleasure Craft Here
The fleet of pleasure yachts visiting here was considerably augmented over the week-end with three arrivals for short sojourns.

Gerald H. Bucey of Seattle, and his son, Boyd, with their eighteen-foot trunk cabin cruiser were the most interesting of the week-end arrivals. This pair of intrepid navigators with their appropriately named Wee Yot, intend to make the trip to Ketchikan, Alaska, from this port. They left their Puget Sound home last Wednesday and have called at several ports en route here. They will go to Nanaimo from this port and afterwards to the British Columbia coast to Ketchikan, terminating their holiday cruise at that point.

The Tacoma yacht Argosy, a sixty-foot vessel, accompanied by a white and a pleasure cruise in B.C. and Puget Sound waters.

J. W. Burson of Southern California brought his fine yacht, Robert G. Spalding to anchor for a short stay prior to making a cruise to the Gulf Islands. The Robert G. Spalding is a fifty-two foot craft powered with a 125 horse power gasoline motor. Her beam is eleven feet six inches.

The vessel is luxuriously fitted to accommodate six guests and a crew of two and every comfort is provided for them on board. A Delco electric plant, steam radiators, hot and cold running water, phonograph and writing desk are among the conveniences.

Mr. Burson who is accompanied by Clarence Burson and Captain Newton Thomas, left this morning for San Juan Islands intending to watch the fish traps in operation.

POPULAR COMIC STRIP HEROINE COMES TO LIFE IN MOTION PICTURES

Tillie the Toiler, Made Famous by Cartoonist, Now
Startles Dominion Theatre Audiences Into Roaring
Mirth; All Fast and Frolicking Comedy and Not a Dull Moment in Play

Marion Davies should be given the laurel wreath, or whatever it is that goes to crown the brow of the fairest and cleverest of screen comedienne.

As Tillie, the "Tillie the Toiler," her latest Cosmopolitan starring vehicle,
which opened to-day at the Dominion Theatre, Miss Davies gives the crowning performance of her entire film career up to date.

She even surpasses the wonderful heights of acting she achieved in "Little Old New York," "When Knigh-hood Was in Flower," "Zander the Great" and "Beverly of Graustark."

For many months there has been a popular urge to see Miss Davies in farce.
Her past performances have given every indication that she would run away with a straight comedy role. Those who have longed to see her in a comedienne should not fail to see "Tillie
the Toiler."

The play is based on Russ West-over's comic strip, which is run in many of the great American daily newspapers, and the screen play is said to be based on Agnes Christine Johnston and Edward T. Loew Jr.'s adaptation of this strip. Younger wrote the screen play and, like the star, has done something to enhance his reputation for having written such excellent screen material as "Brown of Harvard," "The Taxi Dancer," and other productions.

Robert Henley some months ago demonstrated his ability as a director of situation comedy by his admirable handling of "His Secretary," but even that splendid vehicle did not give him
a chance to show his directorial powers
as does "Tillie the Toiler."

Miss Davies has an excellent supporting cast of screen comedians to assist her in this picture. They include at least half a dozen featured players, among them George K. Arthur, Bert Roach, George Fawcett, Gertrude Short, Estelle Clark, Arthur Hoyt and Claire McDowell.

Victor Townley, Who Sings the "Laughing Song," on Vaudeville Card

The Coliseum Theatre promises a big surprise for its patrons for the coming week in booking Victor Townley, famous lyric tenor and laughing artist,
well known during the war as Private James Schofield of the First Canadian Division. Mr. Townley will include in his repertoire a laughing song of his own composition as well as the famous "Laughing Song" and favorite old and new ballads. Mr. Townley while entertaining the troops at hospital camps became a great favorite; in fact his name spread throughout the European continent. The Coliseum Theatre greatly appreciates the opportunity of presenting him to its patrons. Jimmie Howard, the popular young Canadian, who will be remembered by many of the patrons of this theatre, is also on this week's bill in a musical sketch entitled "A Double Turn" (by his own pen), assisted by Miss May Huse, a very clever little English actress and step dancer. This act is one of the main features of this week's vaudeville bill.

"Rolled Stockings," Paramount's
"youth" picture, has everything—a thrilling college crew race, some exciting automobile scenes, snappy comedy, a good love story and pep. It is healthy young man and womanhood at their best.

The youngsters cheered and laughed
at the opening show, and the oldsters chuckled. It is happy entertainment by a snappy cast of youngsters. James Hall and Richard Arlen, hardy along in their twenties, typical college undergraduates, have the principal male roles; Louise Brooks, brunette beauty, who has been seen in a number of well-known pictures during the past year, is the heroine; and the vamp is blonde Nancy Phillips. She plays a featured part for the first time.

Poor Eustace is Blamed For All
Alf's Misfortune

Famous Comedy "Alf's Button,"
Still Keeps Audiences
Enthusiastic

Alf is nervous, and he wriggled uncomfortably in his chair.
For on the other side of the door the biggest event of his life was taking place.

Alf jumped up in excitement as the door opened and a nurse appeared. In her arms she carried a tiny infant.
"It's a boy," she said, and Alf's eyes
glinted with joy. But when a moment later the nurse reappeared with two more infants of the male species
Alf nearly fainted.

"That's Eustace all over," he ejaculated. "He was always so blooming olease."

Alf had gotten into the habit of blaming everything on Eustace, and not without cause. Eustace was the slave of the second button on Alf's tunic, and inasmuch as that button had been manufactured out of the lamp with which Aladdin of old had summoned the "slave of the lamp," Alf
now possessed the same power.

The first time that Alf had blamed Eustace for being "olease" was when he had ordered him to supply him with a bath. Eustace did more than that;
he supplied a pool of perfumed water,
but he placed it in the centre of a bath, and commanded the twenty beauties in the place to assist Alf and his friend, Bill, at their ablutions.

Alf and Bill were not used to that kind of bathing, so at Alf's command
Eustace provided them with a bathtub
"like the lord chancellor's."
Eustace's generosity and its embarrassments to his master are set forth

Two High Class Films on Latest Columbia Bill

"Jewels of Desire" and "Let It Rain" Are Big Attractions

Many controversies have arisen with regard to biblical characters used either for prologues or epilogues in motion pictures.

During the filming of "Jewels of Desire," Priscilla Dean's new star picture, which Paul Powell directed, a question arose when several of his staff observed the masculine angel, which was used in an early sequence of the production.

When they told Powell of his apparent mistake, he said, "If you will consult Tinsot's Bible, you will see that said from being correct with regard to type selected, you will also observe that I am authentic too, as regards dress."

A "Tinsot's Bible" was secured and Powell was questioned no further. One of the scenes from this Bible was used in the production.

"Jewels of Desire" at the Columbia Theatre to-day. John Bowers, Walter
Long, Syd Crossley, Ernie Adams, Luke
Cosgrave, Raymond Wells and Marie
Perceval are in the supporting cast.
There is a novelty Douglas MacLean brings to the Columbia screen to-day in "Let It Rain," his new Paramount picture, also showing to-day.

Not all of the latest MacLean comedy has been photographed in color however. The comedian believes that color on the screen is still so much of a novelty that the spectator's interest in the laugh possibilities might be overshadowed by the unusual color appeal.
However, the final episode was filmed by the improved Technicolor Process to reproduce all the colors in their full values. This makes its first use in the history of screen comedy.

The color episode pictures the star
in the brilliant regalia of a lieutenant of the Marine Corps and other members of the cast in uniforms of both the U. S. navy and marines. Shirley Mason, who plays opposite MacLean, also shares in this presentation. Eddie Cline directed "Let It Rain."

Mexican Who Killed Policeman Was Murdered

Vera Cruz, July 25—Luis Estrada, who killed a policeman on Thursday while resisting arrest, was hanged on Saturday with bullets fired by the dead officer's comrades as he stood at the side of the grave where the body was being buried. He had been forced to march behind the late policeman's coffin to the cemetery and the body was buried immediately after he had been shot down.

The shooting of Estrada, who originally had been wanted for a minor offence, has caused a sensation in Vera Cruz and the authorities have started an investigation.

DISILLUSIONED FRENCH OFFICER SEES STRANGE LIFE IN BRAZIL MINES

Milton Sills, as French Army Officer Who Wants to Lose the World, Leads Audience Into Powerfully
Dramatic Situations on Capitol Screen; Vaudeville Attractions Good

Men who have lost their faith in humanity are prone to seek out-of-the-way places in which to bury themselves and their troubles. The remote corners of the earth are peopled by such disillusioned unfortunates, and
"Framed," which comes to the Capitol
Theatre, is the story of such a man.

Milton Sills is an officer in the French army during the World War and on being falsely accused and court-martialled goes in an embittered state to the diamond mines of Brazil. There he is trapped by a modern Circe and adds all womankind to his other hates.

In the end, through the love of a pure girl, he regains his normal state of mind and all ends happily.

Thrilling scenes during a "mud rush"
in the mines, examples of the toll and life in the humid jungles along the Amazon, tense drama and emotional climaxes, make this photoplay, produced by Ray Rockett and directed by Charles Brabin, one of the best that has been offered by First National Pictures in a long time.

The stage attractions for this week are exceptionally fine and include some excellent talent. The first act introduces eccentric dancers de luxe in
"What Will They Do Next," a novelty dance creation that will be found very interesting. The second offers Wally Fullman, with his old banjo, playing several popular airs, and the third act presents "The Holland Duo," in a novelty musical and singing presentation. The Capitol Concert Orchestra will also be featured in another highly-talented musical synopsis for the picture attractions.

Musical Romance of Canada Plains Is Big Attraction

Hincks' Company Offers Something New at Playhouse
This Week

Beginning to-day Reginald Hincks is offering one of the most beautiful music productions ever produced in this city.

The plot reveals the romance of a little French-Canadian girl who loves her boy so well that she will sacrifice anything for him. One, Hawley, a remittance man, also loves this little lady, and his schemes with an Indian squaw for the lover's downfall and disgrace make things very interesting.
Then there is a rather weird person known as Hard Botted Herman, who is really afraid of his own shadow and who by some trick of fate has been made a special constable for the R.C.
M.P. in his district. He is loved by Lady Jane the proprietress of the local saloon, and it is not till almost the end of the play that he is given a chance to prove his real worth through an investigation into the alleged death of Chief Black Eagle. How he solves this case and brings happiness to the little French-Canadian girl make a very pretty ending to the story. The music has all been taken from one of the most popular of recent operettas and is really the finest, and most tuneful that has been heard at the Playhouse this, or any other season. The following casts will be seen in this production: Eva Hart, Reg. Hincks,

"TILLIE THE TOILER"

A scene from Dominion's feature presentation, starring Marion Davies.

Bobby Stephens, Georgina Watt, Will Marshall and Harold Bechtel.
"The Honeymoon Express," Warner
Bros film, is on the screen.

The story is a powerful domestic comedy-drama, the principal roles being played by Miss Rich and Willard Louis, with an excellent supporting cast including Helene Costello, Jane Winton, John Patrick, Harold Goodwin, Holmes Herbert, Jason Robards, Virginia Lee Corbin and Robert Brower.
It was directed by James Flood from the story by Mary O'Hara.

GARRISON TROOPS REPEL ATTACKERS

Guns Boom Out When Sea
Forces Attempt Landing;
Coast Well Defended

Guns of the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade manning the guns from Albert Head to Macaulay Point, nests of machine guns manned by men of the 16th Canadian Scottish, and pickets of infantry along several miles of waterfront constituted the force from Victoria and Esquimalt which repelled mythical invaders Saturday night and Sunday morning in the sham battle arranged in conjunction with the closing of the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade Camp.

Just before dusk "enemy craft" were manoeuvring in the Straits seeking a safe entrance into the Royal Roads.
Guns trained their pieces upon them and a spirited fire commenced.
Hundreds of spectators lined the Ogden Point breakwater and others grouped themselves on the rocks of Macaulay Point to witness the activity of sea and land forces.

Under a smoke screen small boats crept in from the sea, and powerful searchlights swept the water in an attempt to pick them out and repel their attack. The first and second attacks were both crushed by artillery fire and the riot of Lewis guns added to the confusion when signallers flashed the machine gunners word of approaching enemy boats.
For many hours the firing continued,
but finally the attacking party withdrew, having encountered hopeless odds.

Fall Wheat and Gardens Will Be Judged This Week

Keating, July 25.—The members of the South Saanich Farmers' Institute met at the Temperance Hall for their monthly meeting on Thursday evening with a fair attendance, considering the busy season. W. D. Michell presiding. Arrangements were made for their annual picnic to Roche Harbor, San Juan, instead of Orcas Island, where the picnic has been held for the last two years. It is to be a baseball picnic, and will be held on Sat-not later than 8 a.m. Tickets can be secured from D. D. Michell.

Competitions will again be held by the institute for fall wheat and vegetable gardens, and judging will take place during this week.

On a request from the institute that danger signs be erected at some of the dangerous crossings on the East Saanich Road, a letter was read from the B.C.
Automobile Club stating the matter
had been looked into and several signs would be erected.

The speaker for the evening was Mr.
Hunt from the Sidney Experimental Farm, who gave many instructive points on bee-keeping, and stressed the point that one must like the work and treat their bees well to get good results.
Mr. Hunt was accorded a very hearty vote of thanks for his interesting address. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the institute.

Misses Margaret Michell and Kathleen Pinder left for a trip to Ocean

WELCOME FOR J.B.A.A. OARSMEN

Victorious Crews Are Given Reception Here

Boys Return From Cleaning Up N.P.A.A.O. Regatta at Harrison Lake and Mayor Carl Pendray Received Them at City Hall; Buchanan Cup, Emblematic of the Senior Fours Championship, Worth $3,000, Back in Victoria After Absence of Twenty Years; "Tack-weights" Break Seat and Drop Out

Dan O'Sullivan and his victorious oarsmen of the J.B.A.A. were accorded a civic welcome this afternoon at the City Hall. The splendid feast by the J.B.A.A. crews in winning not only the senior and junior honors, which honors have not come to this city in many years, but also the grand aggregate, struck a responsive note in the hearts of all Victoria and Mayor Carl Pendray decided to give the boys a civic welcome.

Arriving from Vancouver at 2:30 o'clock the oarsmen were given a great reception and then motored to the City Hall, with the pipe band of the 16th Canadian Scottish in the lead. At the City Hall His Worship the Mayor and Alderman John Harvey welcomed them.

"You have brought honor to Victoria and I wish to congratulate you," said His Worship. "I trust that you will continue your good work and win again in the future."

His Worship also congratulated Coach O'Sullivan on the great work he had accomplished.

An old black cap, worn by Dan O'Sullivan in the days when the Big Four of the J.B.A.A. swept everything before them, is to be placed in the trophy cabinet at the clubhouse alongside the massive Buchanan Cup, emblematic of the senior four championship of the N.P.A.A.O., which was won on Saturday at Harrison Lake by the Victoria oarsmen. The cap is to be given the same honor as the famous "66" sweater of Red Grange, which has been hung in the hall of fame of the university of the famous gridiron star.

The J.B.A.A. won the senior fours for the first time in twenty years. Year in and year out, exclusive of the days of the Great War, the Boys went forth seeking the highest honors in the N.P.A.A.O. but each year they were repulsed. The Boys won the senior fours at Esquimalt in 1906, but the following year they were beaten at Nelson. WANTED VICTORY BADLY

Dan O'Sullivan, who has coached the Boys for many years and worked and prayed for a victory in the senior fours, rested on his coaching here last Tuesday night and for once was really enthusiastic about the chances of his junior four, composed of the veteran Billy Kennedy as stroke, Dan Moses as No. 3, Ron Mawhood as No. 2 and Campbell Forbes as bowman. The crew looked good to Dan, and it has got to be a good crew to please him. Dan still has recollections of that famous "Big Four," which he stroked for seven years in the late thirties, and which never won in the wake of another boat.

While Dan was very hopeful, he decided to do something he had never done before. He went to his trophy cabinet and pulled out his old black cap. It was the cap he had worn in his successful days as an oarsman. He took it to the clubhouse the night before the boys left for the regatta and led Campbell Forbes, the bowman, into a corner. After explaining the history of the cap Dan admonished Forbes with:

"Wear this cap and don't disgrace it."

NOT DISGRACED

Forbes was so thrilled with the thought of having the veteran's cap that he refused to let it pass from his hands. At night he tucked it under the coat of his pyjamas so that it might not go astray. On Friday, the day of the race for the junior fours, Forbes adjusted the cap on his head and read and stared the course of his life. He held the boat right on line, as Kennedy gauged the stroke, hitting it up to and off a challenge, and then letting it drop so as not to wear out his crew. Now as the world knows the J.B.A.A. won the junior fours just about as they pleased and set a record for the regatta, it was 35 and 1-5 seconds. This was about ten seconds faster than the record for the senior fours at the Canadian Henley at St. Catharines, Ont.

WIN ONCE AGAIN

On Saturday the Boys faced their greatest test. They lined up at the start of the senior fours with Vancouver, Portland and Brentwood bidding for the honors and San Diego rowing in an independent race for the Pacific Coast championship. Forbes once more adjusted the old black cap and the crew pulled to the starting line. All eyes were turned to the crack of the starter's gun. At the mile mark Portland and Brentwood began to falter under the grueling pace, but Victoria, San Diego and Portland held on and no open water showed between the leading trio. Kennedy called on his crew for a spurt, and the boat went to the front. Then came the killing drive in the last few hundred yards to the finishing line. Victoria drove on furiously, but San Diego, their oarsmen fresh, not having competed in any other events during the regatta, had the necessary punch to reach the line a close winner over the Boys, with the Vancouver boat in third place.

San Diego, although winning the Pacific Coast title, did not capture the Buchanan Cup, the famous $3,000 cup, which goes to the N.P.A.A.O. crew, which wins the senior four. San Diego is not a member of the N.P.A.A.O. and send crews North only at intervals.

Each member of the J.B.A.A. crew, who started out as a junior and finished up as a senior, will receive a silver cup from Hon. Walter C. Nichol. When Hon. Mr. Nichol presented the beautiful new shell to the J.B.A.A. last year he promised a silver cup to each member of the crew that rowed the first victory in his boat. The boys made it a field day by showing the Nichol shell over the line first in the two main events of the regatta.

GREAT OYATIONS

The J.B.A.A. received a great hand at the regatta for, although having but eleven men, they won all the main honors, including the grand aggregate. They won five firsts, three seconds and two thirds. These eleven men had to do a lot of doubling up, and consequently were tired when the regatta

RICKARD IS NOW PREPARING FOR HIS TITLE SHOT OF 1928

New York, July 25.—After formally naming Jack Dempsey as the man who will fight Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship this fall, Rickard is dickering for matches that may lead to another contender to a title shot in 1928. Although the Tunney contract with the promoter called for selection of an opponent as well as the date, and the site of the championship fight, Rickard has agreed to a delay until August 5, in the carrying out of the latter conditions.

Rickard declared the fight will take place between September 15 and 20, but where, he did not know.

Jack Delaney has agreed to forfeit his 175-pound title in order to take on Paolino, the Spaniard, and, if victorious, meet Jack Sharkey late this fall.

The matter will be before the New York State Athletic Commission next Tuesday, Rickard said, when Delaney probably will give up his title in favor of Mike McTigue.

CANADIAN HENLEY WILL BE GREATEST IN ROWING HISTORY

Toronto, July 25.—A record-breaking list of entrants, assuring keen competition in each event, will row at the Canadian Henley to be held at St. Catharines, Ont., July 28, 29 and 30, the entry list issued last night by the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen revealed.

WALLACE SHOOTS BRILLIANT GOLF TO SET COURSE MARK

Shooting phenomenal golf Norman Wallace, fifteen years old, broke the record for the Macaulay Point course yesterday when he completed eighteen holes with the brilliant score of 67, two strokes better than the former record of 69 established by Fred Burnes, the club pro.

Young Wallace was playing in a foursome with W. S. Morris, J. L. McIntyre and N. S. Mitchell, of Houston, Texas, when he established the new mark.

On the second nine holes the youngsters also set up a new record of 33 for 9 holes.

Wallace's card for the eighteen holes is as follows:

Out..... 334 445 542—34
In..... 334 345 533—33

A great future is predicted for Wallace, whose feat yesterday was not fluky by any means. He quite often goes around in 79.

Golfers Competing For Western Titles On Moose Jaw Links

Sensational Scores Shot in Practice Rounds; Well-known Golfers Gather

Moose Jaw, Sask., July 25.—One hundred and twelve golfers, the choice amateur and professional talent of the West, will comprise the field competing in the Western Canada golf championships this year, over the course of the Moose Jaw Golf Club.

Although the complete entry list is somewhat smaller than expected, the field is a very formidable one and from it will emerge the Saskatchewan amateur and open champions as well as the Western Canada title-holders.

At 9 o'clock this morning, the first pair teed off in the opening half of the 36-hole qualifying round. The second half of the qualifying round will make up Tuesday's programme.

Unless advance indications prove incorrect, sensational scores are in the offing. Playing practice rounds over the course yesterday, Jack Cuthbert, of the Norwood Country Club, Winnipeg, turned in a card of 68, four below par. A few minutes later Ned McKenna, Minski pro, equalled the mark.

Right behind came Blair of Regina, with 69, while 70's were quite common among the professionals.

DRAW MADE

The draw for the first half of the qualifying round, was made last evening and resulted in well mixed matches for the morning flight. One of special interest will find Freddie Fletcher, Moose Jaw pro, playing H. R. Parker, Manitoba champion.

Brandon, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Moose Jaw and many other clubs are represented in the tournament. Winnipeg's entry is generally conceded to be one of the strongest competing.

Unless inclement weather intervenes, the course will be in fine condition for the classic. Fairways and greens are very fast, and the sports layout improved by natural water hazards.

Nanaimo Play Well And Are Now Boomed For Winnipeg Games

Dispose of Edmonton in First Game of Series; Play Second Game To-night

Are Better Than Alberta Champs; Expect to Play in Western Finals

Edmonton, July 25.—Winning from the Edmonton Canadian Legion team by a score of 2-0 Saturday night, both goals being registered in the second half, Nanaimo City soccer champions British Columbia, seem headed for Winnipeg and the Western final in the Connaught Cup competition. The visitors shaped up like a better balanced team than the Legion and besides, got the best of the breeze that was blowing. Cowie and Sandland got the goals and Robb had no chance with either shot.

While the tallies registered came following intense play, it might be said that the Legion could have done more to prevent them than was done. Just before the scoring of both goals, play had quieted down noticeably and it says considerable for the Nanaimo players that they sensed the breaks in each instance and took full advantage of them. On the whole the Legion are a little unfortunate to go into the second game Monday two goals in arrears.

HELD AN EDGE

In the first half, the Edmontonians had a slight edge on the exchanges. They were in on top of Nanaimo's cage quite often but, as a rule, were met by the stiffest kind of defensive football, and Routledge in goal, coming through with numerous clearances that evoked applause.

At the turnover, however, the locals wilted somewhat and Nanaimo were the more convincing side, having a distinct margin as time wore on. After Cowie scored the first goal ten minutes from the re-start, the Legion came to life and did some commendable attacking but a lot of the sting went out of their efforts twenty minutes later when Sandland got through for a rocket shot following a cross from the left and a pass from Cowie. The teams met again this evening.

Saskatoon, Sask., July 25.—Saskatoon Sons of England secured a one-goal lead to take into the second of the two-game series of the Connaught Cup inter-provincial eliminations by defeating Port Rouge Rangers of Winnipeg, by 2-1 Saturday night.

The teams met again to-day. Port Rouge scored in the first half, Calahan beating Valentine with a shot that hit off all high shots with ease and a free kick near the penalty area.

In the second half, Jack Rivest broke through to score the tying counter, and towards the end of the game play settled down to a petty kick awarded the Saskatoon team when McQueen fouled Dan Rivest.

The game was not so much of a soccer spectacle for the teams took the field at a time when the hottest day of the year was just at its hottest. On the run of the play there was little to choose between either.

For Port Rouge, Johnstone in goal, was the shining light. This lanky lad picked off all high shots with ease and cleared his lines well. Mitchell at centre also played brilliantly while Scholes and Graham featured on the forward line.

LAWN BOWLING

Attendance at the Provincial championships last week disorganized the local schedule of the lawn bowlers, with the consequence that another strenuous series of home games is now set for the returning players.

SNARED

A Story of One Wonderful Week
By MALCOLM DUART

"Hey, ma!" Young Smith was calling from the yard. "Look who's coming!"

Mrs. Smith and Nadine went to the door. In the distance, across the fields, a man was running toward them.

"John Edward!" exclaimed Mrs. Smith. "Look at him jump! What ails him?"

CHAPTER XII

A sizzling from the stove recalled both women to their duties. A minute or two later, however, the younger Bodey burst into the kitchen, panting.

"Where's Stewart?" he demanded. "Smithy says he's here!"

Bodey turned. His elder brother was in the door of the makeshift stable, whistling.

"Hey, Stewart!" The younger Bodey leaped from the kitchen and hurried across the yard.

"Hurray!" returned the elder, smiling broadly and extending his hand.

Nadine and Mrs. Smith watched the two men as they shook hands and fell at once into serious conversation. The younger brother moved his arms in quick, short gestures as he spoke.

Stewart Bodey listened, with rapidly deepening gravity.

"Generally," said Mrs. Smith. "John Edward doesn't get excited at all. What's up?"

Charles Pierce had come from his retreat on the side porch and was standing midway between the house and the spot where the two men talked. Twice he started toward them, but each time when it became evident that their private conference was not over.

Eventually the younger Bodey caught sight of him, and beckoned.

"That's the worst thing about men," observed Mrs. Smith, as Bodey spoke rapidly to the youth, close to his ear. "They're always whispering their silly secrets to each other—as if women couldn't be trusted."

The three men started toward the house. Young Smith, who had viewed proceedings from the top board of the fence, languidly descended to the ground and followed.

Stewart Bodey's brow was clouded, and he did not look up as he reached the door. Pierce's lips were compressed. The younger Bodey spoke sharply, in the tone of an army officer addressing his troops.

"A squad from the sheriff's office will be here some time to-day."

Mrs. Smith caught her breath audibly. "Are they after Elbert?"

"They're after Stewart Bodey."

"Oh?" she breathed more easily. "I was afraid they'd found out where Elbert was."

"They'll find out, unless you're mighty shrewd, Irene. He'll have to hide."

"So will I," said Stewart. "So will Miss Rollins and Mr. Pierce."

"What am I to do?" Acid smoke was rising from the sausages, burning on the stove behind her, but no one of the six observed it.

"You'll stay here to receive them."

"Shall I tell who I am?"

"Good glory, no! They'll have your son in two hours if they know his mother's here. The rest of us have got to make tracks—get a move on, and put as much distance between this house and us as we can. Your son and I will have to take our duds along, too—no use leaving any more clues than we have to. Miss Rollins can leave here—they'll think the clothes are yours. I can't talk any longer. We've got to be going."

"But John Edward—why are they looking for Stewart?"

"Because," he snapped. "Stewart was in the back room of that speakeasy when your husband was killed."

"I knew it! I remembered him!" shouted young Smith, in delight. "He couldn't fool me."

"Get your clothes," the man directed. "I'll get mine."

He ran through the kitchen, the boy following more slowly.

Nadine had not spoken, but was standing a finger to her lip. Pierce stepped up beside her. Noting the burning food upon the stove, he dropped the skillet into the water-bucket, and it sank, spluttering.

"Are you coming with us, Nadine?"

"Shall I?"

Mrs. Smith whirled upon her. "You bet you shall! You're not going to get my boy into trouble, you mean little!"

Pierce seized the woman firmly by the head, one hand over her mouth. "You're a nuisance," he said. "Keep quiet. I'll do the talking." Still holding her, he turned to Nadine. "You'll come, won't you? You don't want to see Mr. Bodey here—do you?"

"Where is he?" the man asked, impatiently. He had not greeted Nadine, though she was nodding and smiling at him.

"If you'll look before you nose, you'll see him." The woman pointed out the door and toward the old milk house.

Bodey turned. His elder brother was in the door of the makeshift stable, whistling.

"Hey, Stewart!" The younger Bodey leaped from the kitchen and hurried across the yard.

with my green hair ribbon. Come on, Upke Wg!" and she spoke no more buty talk.

"All right, I'll hop along after you pretty soon," the rabbit gentleman answered. And when he had found his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, he followed the little bunny girl. But she hopped so fast that when Mr. Longears reached the forest Bunty was out of sight.

Now we shall see what happened to her, and then what happened to Uncle Wiggily. Bunty hopped along into a cool, dark part of the woods, and, all of a sudden, she noticed her green hair ribbon was gone.

"Oh, my goodness!" exclaimed the little orphan rabbit girl. "Who took my nice new, green hair ribbon?" and she put her paws to her head. "Who took my ribbon?"

Then from somewhere amid the trees a voice seemed to answer.

"Katy did! Katy did!"

"Oh, so Katy took my green hair ribbon, did she?" cried Bunty. "Well, I don't know who Katy is, but I wish she would give me back my ribbon. Are you sure she took it?"

Again a voice answered: "Katy did! Katy did!"

And then, looking around with her bright eyes, Bunty saw something green, just the color of her hair ribbon, on a distant tree.

"Oh, there it is!" cried the little rabbit. "There's Katy now, with my ribbon she took! Katy! Katy! Come back with my ribbon!" Bunty begged.

But as the little orphan rabbit watched, she saw the green patch flit away to another tree. And of course Bunty ran after it, calling.

"Katy! Katy! Please don't go away with my hair ribbon!"

But the voice answered: "Katy did! Katy did!"

"I know you did," sighed Bunty. "I saw you go away. But will you please come back!" This time Katy did not reply, but seemed to go deeper into the forest and Bunty followed until at last the little rabbit girl was lost. She did not know which way to go to find Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"Oh, dear!" sobbed the little orphan rabbit. "What am I going to do? My hair ribbon is lost and I am lost! Oh, dear!"

Then there sounded a rustling in the bushes. Baby Bunty looked up to see Uncle Wiggily hopping toward her. He had followed her through the forest.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" sobbed Bunty. "I'm not lost any more, 'cause you have found me. But somebody took my green hair ribbon."

"Who did?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Katy did! Katy did!" suddenly trilled the same voice again. And then Bunty saw the flash of green and she smiled.

"There she is! There's Katy now! She has my ribbon!"

"Yes, that is Katy all right," chuckled Mr. Longears, "but she hasn't your hair ribbon. Come here, Katy, if you please!" And over toward the rabbit gentleman and little orphan Bunty a large, green bug, just the color of Bunty's hair ribbon.

"But she hasn't got it!" Bunty exclaimed, looking at the bug. "Why did she keep saying she did, she did, if she didn't take it?"

"Because this bug is a Katy Did and the noise it makes, as a cricket calls, sounds like the word Katy did," explained Uncle Wiggily. "No wonder you were lost, Bunty, following a green Katy Did bug through the woods, thinking it was your green hair ribbon."

"Well, anyhow, I'm glad you found me," murmured Bunty. "Please take me home. I guess I'll never find my hair ribbon." But we shall see what happens in the next story, which will be about Uncle Wiggily and Katy Did. That is if the milk bottle doesn't fall down the steps and wake up the alarm clock.

Uncle Wiggily and Katy Did

By HOWARD E. GARIS

"Uncle Wig, does 'oo know how to tie hair ribbons?" asked Baby Bunty of the nose twinkling rabbit gentleman in the hollow stump bungalow one day.

"Why, I think I could tie a hair ribbon if I tried very hard," answered Mr. Longears. "But I wish you would stop that baby talk, Bunty. You are getting to be a big rabbit girl now."

"All right, ribbon then! But please tie it behind my ears," she begged, and when this had been done Bunty hopped off toward the woods, saying:

WORKS like magic on any kind of corn, no matter how old, where it is, how bad it hurts. One touch and pain is eased. Almost unbelievable. Then the corn shrivels up and goes. A scientific way that dancers, walkers, actors, doctors and millions use. Beware of imitators. Get the real "Gets-It" at drug stores.

Bunty ran after it

"Aw wite, Uncle Wig, I 'top baby talk!" laughed the mischievous little tyke, laughing as she still spoke some of it. "An' here's my hair ribbon," she went on, holding up one of a beautiful light green color.

"Say 'ribbon', Bunty, if you please, and not 'wibbon', my dear," chided Uncle Wiggily.

"All right, ribbon then! But please tie it behind my ears," she begged, and when this had been done Bunty hopped off toward the woods, saying:

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

"The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel"

(Copyright)

TUESDAY, JULY 26, 1927

Astrologers read this as a day unfavorable to many activities on the planet Earth. For this reason it is wise to be cautious in business.

The early riser should benefit, for in the morning friendly aspects guide
whatever is constructive and progressive.

There is a fairly promising sign for seeking employment, provided applications are made in the opening hours of the commercial world.

Both men and women who exercise authority should give orders in the first part of the day, if they desire cheerful co-operation.

At this time there may be a widespread temptation to speculate, but brokers should be avoided while this configuration prevails.

Judgment is not to be trusted under this direction of the stars and this applies as much to choosing a wife as to selecting a rising stock.

Merchants may find trade quiet, but they may be assured that intense activity will mark the Autumn months.

Under this planetary rule upheavals regarding instalment plans of purchase
may be widespread and agitation regarding credit schemes may be expected, the seers prophesy.

Financiers and professors of economics are to express opinions that will cause new interest in the thrift, astrologers declare.

There is a sway said to encourage deception and dishonesty among persons of good reputation.

Greeds for money will cause increase of certain crimes such as forgery, embezzlement and counterfeiting, it is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a satisfactory year where income and business are concerned.

Children born on this day may be secretly intensely ambitious and inclined to seek the society of the wealthy. They should be taught the true value of hard-earned success.

NURSING SERVICE IS WELL SUPPORTED

Districts Vote to Share Proportion of Expense

Colwood, July 24.—The executive committee of the Council of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service was held at "Nightingale," Colwood, the home of the nurse in charge, on Friday evening. J. W. Little of Colwood has accepted the position of second vice-president and the executive committee is now composed of the following personnel: E. P. Ashe, president; Mrs. E. Brown, first vice-president; J. W. Little, second vice-president. The nurse in charge is Miss H. Kelly; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. Brown. The secretary reported that the following four districts had again voted at the annual school meetings to include their proportion of the expense of the service in their school assessment: Colwood, Langford, Luxton and Happy Valley and Albert Head. Since the service is now in its eighth year of establishment and many new people had settled in the district who were not present at the inauguration of the service, it was felt by the committee that some form of publicity should be given to the work, and the secretary was instructed to draw up a suitable article for a pamphlet, outlining the aims and objects of the association and the methods employed by the service and the system of management for distribution among the people and to enable them to familiarize themselves with the work. The committee were gratified at the recent expression of the confidence of the people and they, together with the board of council, will spare no effort to bring the association up to a point where it will function 100 per cent, and the confidence of the people be justified. The educational policy of the service will be extended during the coming months and the executive committee will recommend to the council that "better baby" clinics be included in the policy of the association. Some suggestions for the improvement of the service were suggested and considered, and finally adopted for recommendation to the council at their next quarterly meeting.

CERTIFIED SEEDS SAVED INSPECTED

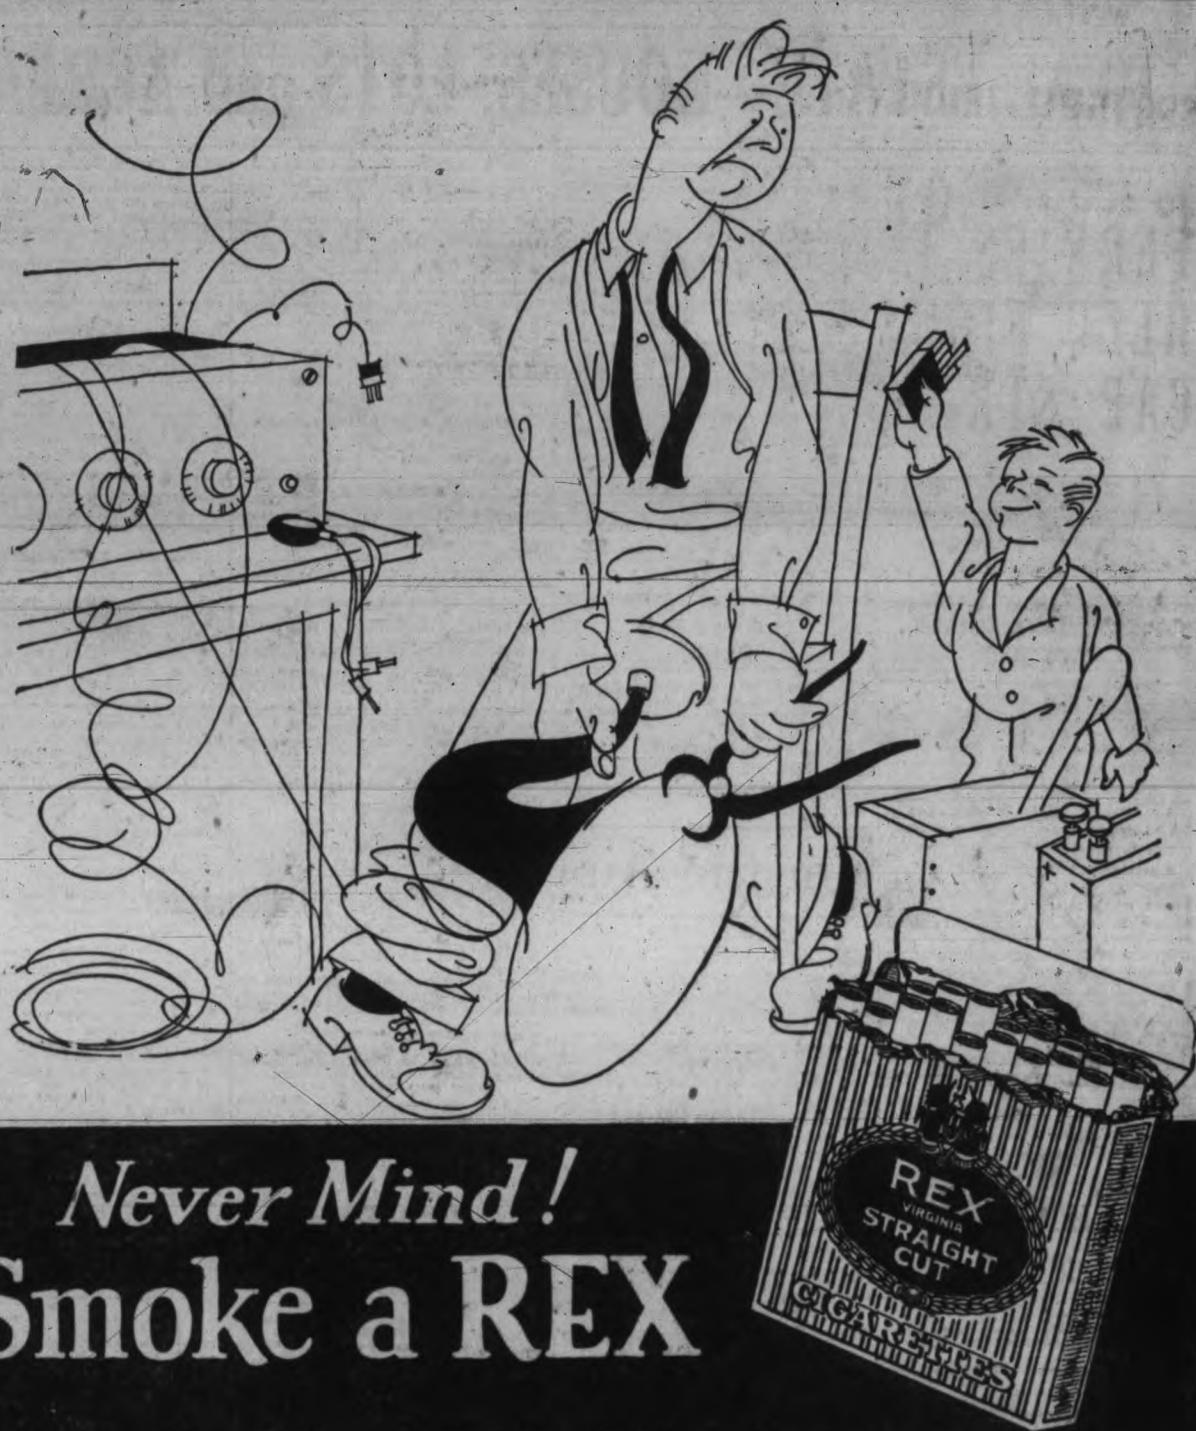

Growers Tremble as Keen Eyed Experts Search For Faults

Sayward, July 25.—The certified seed potato growers here experienced an anxious time this week, when their crops came under the expert scrutiny of H. S. McLeod, newly appointed supervisor of certified seed potato inspection in British Columbia for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, and recently transferred from Alberta to take over the management of this work from C. Ties. Provincial Agronomist, who with T. W. Eastham, Provincial Plant Pathologist, accompanied him upon his initial tour of inspection. Remembering the circular issued by the Division of Botany, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, on the Inspection Standards for 1927, covering the percentage of blackleg, leaf roll, curly dwarf, mosaic, scab, etc., and observing the determined manner these experts tore up his plants, one grower having a reputation for his whole crop disappearing, inquired anxiously, if it was intended to send in three inspectors each visit, was much relieved to know that there would be but one. Spoken the aphids depend upon mosaic-infected plants for existence, then the species will soon become extinct in British Columbia if these three gentlemen continue to tour the Province in the interests of better seed potatoes. In their ardent search for mosaic they even invited the poor trembling grower to join, and what infected plants he failed to observe, or one expert missed, one of the others was pretty sure to detect. Mr. Eastham, who is the authority on plant diseases, usually made the final decision when there was any doubt, generally resulting in the plant being put. Mr. Ties, who took advantage of this opportunity to visit this renowned potato district, more to look over its agricultural conditions and possibilities, was given the organization and supervision of the certified seed potato inspection work when it was first introduced into British Columbia, and takes the very keenest interest in the welfare of this important industry in British Columbia. It is understood that this inspection will continue in co-operation with the Provincial Field Crops Branch, Department of Agriculture. In the limited time at their disposal, these gentlemen covered quite a stretch of Sayward territory, journeying some thirty odd miles and expressing themselves well pleased with their all too brief stay. What is most important to Sayward, is that although Mr. McLeod found some seed plots to contain more than the percentage of disease allowed (which is limited to a total of all diseases of six per cent only), and thus failed to pass the first test for certification, yet he observed that as a whole the crops were in remarkably good condition and failures were very few. There is not the slightest doubt that the strict methods adopted to stamp out disease are absolutely necessary, if we are to make a success of potato growing in this Province.

Making one of his periodical tours of his extensive division, Inspector T. W. S. Parsons of the British Columbia Police, landed at Sayward on Sunday, and during his short visit here travelled nearly forty miles in this patrol of the valley of the Salmon and White Rivers section of this district. Division "A" which he controls from Victoria, takes in the whole of Vancouver Island, and every mode of travel has to be commandeered to cover this spacious and rugged territory, gas boat, canoe, saddle horse and shanks' pony, more often, where trails are steep and narrow. On this part of his patrol, he was accompanied by Corporal Matthews, who is in charge of the Courtenay district and taken in all the northern end of the Island. The hearty manner in which they are welcomed at these outposts, speaks well for the genuine popularity of this distinguished force.

All members are reminded this is the time to secure wool for comforters before it is all reserved.

The district exhibit committee reported progress. Mr. Mitchell, president of Farmers' Institute, asked the ladies to again join them with their usual basket picnic and a trip to San Juan which was accepted with pleasure.

The Girls' Junior Institute sent an invitation to the institute members to be their guests at an outing to be held on August 10 at Butchart Gardens, if suitable arrangements can be made. The invitation was accepted with thanks. After the business, Mrs. H. Lawrie, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. W. D. Mitchell with a beautiful amethyst and gold bar pin as a token of esteem and appreciation of her services as president of the institute, and who was obliged to resign through ill-health. Mrs. W. D. Mitchell, who was a charter member and who has held office every year but one since it was organized, expressed her sincere thanks and hopes soon to be a working member again.

The hostesses for the evening were Misses N. Styan, J. Sherring, I. Lawrie and R. Young.
